Endodontist Dr. Steven Logan moved his practice to the Joliet area two years ago because he saw a growth opportunity in this community. He also discovered the local bank that fits his practice perfectly.

“In my business, I try to remember that every tooth is attached to a person. When I met my banker at First Community, I was welcomed as a valued client rather than tabulated as a new business account. I not only got a custom-structured financing plan that supports my practice goals, I gained some new friends,” enthuses Dr. Logan.

Whether you are a newcomer or a long-timer, a solo entrepreneur or the head of a conglomerate, you—like our friend and client Dr. Logan—will always be treated as a most valuable person at First Community Bank.
